

Common Full execution: each point is one paired solver run
References and normalization are separate for each physical configuration

